Now Security Co's Can More Effectively Screen Prospective Employees and Conduct Investigations

Why EyeDetect and its fast, accurate and affordable test is ideal for contract security personnel.

Trustworthy Personnel Essential

Security companies are crucial to maintaining security and safety. The public inherently trusts security guards to protect people, places and information. It's imperative to hire honest personnel.

Unfortunately, job applicants might have a history of bad behavior not found in a criminal database, on a driving record, or discovered with a drug test.

That threatens a security company's reputation, customers' assets, and public safety.

The best way to ensure you hire honest, competent security personnel is to use EyeDetect.

EyeDetect: The New Gold Standard in Testing

Unlike other credibility assessment technologies, EyeDetect is fast, accurate, affordable and minimally invasive that is quickly and easily implemented to identify trustworthy applicants. It's the world's only scientifically validated, automated lie detector that detects deception by monitoring involuntary eye behavior.

For those that want to also collect the data similar to that gathered by a polygraph, but do it via an automated test, there's EyeDetect+. It uses a device called "Physio Tracker" to measure cardio, respiration and electrodermal.

COVID-19 Creates More Security Needs

Pandemic restrictions have created demand for additional security guards. Firms need to fill open positions quickly.

EyeDetect is faster and more scalable than existing methods. And, it allows for safe social distancing while testing.

EyeDetect is an Efficient Screening Process

"Guards are trusted with customer access codes and facility keys. So, it's imperative to efficiently and thoroughly screen job applicants with a process like EyeDetect. It's a huge liability for a security company to have a dishonest employee in a customer's building or secure site."

EyeDetect is "next-generation" credibility assessment technology.

- 86-88% accuracy at detecting deception
- Tests about 30 minutes; results available in 5 minutes
- Automated and standardized test
- No examiner required
- 100% unbiased and incorruptible
- Noninvasive — there are no cables or sensors attached to the examinee
- For organizations that require polygraph there's EyeDetect+ (see insert, right), the world's first automated polygraph. It assesses credibility by monitoring and recording physiological activity — similar to polygraph — as well as the same ocular data from a standard EyeDetect test. This method is impartial, accurate, and less intrusive than a traditional polygraph. Maintains safe social distance

Pinpoint Investigations

Quickly carry out specific testing for investigations with a 15-minute test that is 90% accurate. Determine who stole a weapon, divulged confidential information, or allowed unauthorized access to a facility.

"EyeDetect is a great tool for solving cases from theft to sexual assault, homicide and other investigations."

"EyeDetect is ideal for quickly and accurately identifying the guilty and exonerating the innocent in investigations. It's also a powerful deterrent when employees know EyeDetect will be used if someone is suspected of a crime. Many times, it'll lead to an early confession."
